

Kari Greenswag
Executive Assistant

Kari's education credentials, combined with 12 years of professional experience in government and non-government organisations, corporate, and tertiary education bring a wealth of experience to her role. Her broad experience, combined with a 2-year term of service with the Peace Corps in Thailand, bring a dedication to detail that helps to keep the FNAAFV team running efficiently.

Originally from Dakota land in the United States of America, Kari's family roots are entrenched in the upper Midwestern state of Minnesota. After spending four years in Gadigal/Sydney to further her tertiary education, Kari now lives on Gimuy Country in Cairns.

Kari holds multiple qualifications including a PhD in Philosophy (University of Sydney) Thesis: "Globalizing Care Ethics: Policy, Transformation, and Judgment", exploring the ethics embedded in care work as structured by the current political and economic climate, a Bachelor of Arts in Philosophy and a Bachelor of Arts in Comparative History of Ideas (University of Washington, USA), and a Master of Arts in Philosophy (University of Sydney); focus on Human Rights.

Kari's lived experience brings her a strong sense of appreciation for the work of FNAAFV'S FVPLS members, and she is grateful to play a role in the valuable work of the sector. "I'm glad that every day the work that I do helps our member services in their vital on-the-groundwork and activities. It is something I can be proud of, and in turn show my son what it is to be doing good work in this world."
